TITLE IX—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

SEC. 901. SENSE OF CONGRESS ENCOURAGING MORE PSY-CHIATRISTS TO ACCEPT HEALTH INSUR-ANCE.

(a) FINDINGS.—The Congress finds as follows:

(1) There is a shortage of mental health providers in the United States.
(2) The majority of Americans, including those with mental illness, rely on health insurance to access the health care services they need.

(3)(A) According to a January 2015 study in JAMA Psychiatry, the percentage of psychiatrists accepting insurance coverage was significantly lower than the percentage of physicians in other specialties.

(B) In 2009 through 2010, 55.3 percent of psychiatrists accepted private noncapitated insurance compared to 88.7 percent of other physicians.

(C) In 2009 through 2010, 54.8 percent of psychiatrists accepted Medicare compared to 86.1 percent of other physicians.

(D) In 2009 through 2010, 43.1 percent of psychiatrists accepted Medicaid compared to 73 percent of other physicians.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) the failure of mental health providers to accept health insurance restricts access to the already limited supply of mental health providers;

(2) to ensure that individuals with mental illness, including serious mental illness, have adequate access to the mental health services they need, mental health providers should accept health insurance;

(3) to ensure that individuals with mental illness have adequate access to the mental health services they need, insurers should ensure robust networks and reimbursement rates that attract participation by more mental health providers; and

(4) as the medical specialty that specializes in the diagnosis, treatment, and prevention of mental health problems, psychiatrists should accept private health insurance, Medicare, and Medicaid.
